Philosophy

All people are emotional as well as thinking and analytical beings. Through music we strive to develop the creative and expressive outlets for our emotional side while at the same time developing a comprehensive body of knowledge about music to further our understanding and enjoyment of the arts...for a lifetime!

Mission Statement

To provide for students, who have the desire to be musicians, a nurturing, instructional and challenging environment in order that they may develop their talents to the best of their abilities. To develop and reinforce the building of individual character necessary to be a productive member of society. To encourage the development of young people into magnificent human beings through participation in the performing arts.

Commitment

PRIDE is a personal commitment. IT is an attitude that separates excellence from mediocrity.

Expectations

“The most effective leadership is leadership by example, it isn’t what you say that make the difference.... it’s what you do”

Seniors

“Leads through experience and maturity”

Seniors are the most experienced members of the band program. As such you bring a wealth of experiences and maturity to the rest of the membership and have a duty to use that experience and knowledge in helping to develop the younger members of our organization. This is your year to influence the others with your experience and wisdom.

A student’s senior year is a year of leadership. It is the culmination of years of band experiences and traditions that must be passed along in a positive and productive manner. This is not an either/or situation. This is what must be done. This is not a “coasting year” but is just the opposite. This is your busiest year. This is the year seniors are expected to “step up” and fill the shoes of all the student leaders that have come before them and add your “name” and your experiences to the traditions that have made our organization what it is today.

Our band program is today...what our students make it to be.

Seniors are expected to:

- Assume leadership roles when required of them
- Fill all duty roster leadership spots
- Be the first to learn and pass off all music and drill
- Remain respectful of all underclassmen
- Tutor the freshman musicians on music and drill
- Remain a positive influence on the rehearsal process
- Assist the assigned student leadership whenever possible

Seniors may have called meetings with the leadership as needed to discuss needs and ideas that will promote the well being of the entire band program.

Juniors

“Lead through example and by actions”

Juniors are the next most experienced members of the band program. You also bring experience to the rest of the membership and have a duty to use that experience and knowledge in helping to develop the younger members of our organization.

While our juniors have experience you are also still “learning”. Juniors should be turning your eyes to the future leadership roles that await you during your senior year. You should be watching and observing the things that worked well and those that don’t, making notes on how to improve the process for your senior year. You should attend as many leadership training clinics and seminars as possible. You should be trying out for as many music related activities as possible i.e. All County Band, All District Band, All State, and Solo & Ensemble etc.

Juniors are expected to:

- Assume leadership roles when required of you
- Remain respectful to seniors and senior leadership
- Be a positive and encouraging influence to all sophomores and freshmen
- Fill all duty roster spots when needed
- Be among the first to learn and pass off all music and drill
- Tutor the freshman musicians on music and drill
- Remain a positive influence on the rehearsal process
- Assist the assigned student leadership and seniors whenever possible.

Sophomores

“Making a difference through developing and nurturing”

Sophomores are generally second year members of the band program. You bring a year of experience to the rest of the membership.

While our sophomores have one year of experience they are still “learning”. Sophomores should still be focusing on developing your own skills and concentrating on making yourselves the best you can be. As such you are not necessarily ready for, or should assume by default any leadership role until asked to do so. You should consider attending as many leadership training clinics and seminars as possible. You should be trying out for any music related activities as possible i.e. All County Band, All District Band, All State, and Solo & Ensemble etc.

Sophomores are expected to:

- Fill all duty roster spots when needed
- Pass off all music and drill as soon as possible
- Be a positive and encouraging influence to the freshman class
- Be respectful of the junior and senior leadership classes
- Remain a positive influence on the rehearsal process
- Assist the assigned student leadership and seniors if needed

Freshmen

“Making a difference through learning and growing”

Freshmen are the newest members of the band program. You are on the threshold of a lifetime of new experiences.

All of the coming band experiences are “brand new” to the freshman class. The experience they have this year will likely set the tone for the rest of their band career. Be positive and be patient. You will amaze yourself at how much you will learn, develop and have grown by the end of this year. You, as freshmen, should also be trying out for as many music related activities as possible i.e. All County Band, All District Band, All State, and Solo & Ensemble etc.

Freshman are expected to:

- Fill all duty roster spots
- Pass off all music and drill in a timely fashion
- Be respectful of the sophomore, junior and senior leadership classes
- Remain a positive influence on the rehearsal process
- Learn as much as you can as fast as you can

Academics

Extracurricular Activity Eligibility Guidelines

The Shelby County Board of Education recognizes the value of extracurricular activities as they relate to the total education of the students; however, the students' pursuit of their academics must be the first and foremost and take a priority over participation in extracurricular activities.

In order for students in grades 10 through 12 to be eligible to participate in extracurricular activities during an academic school year the students must, for the immediate preceding school year, have maintained a passing grade in each of at least six Carnegie unit credit courses and a composite numerical average of 70 for all of the Carnegie unit credit courses.

In order for students in grades 8 and 9 to be eligible to participate in extracurricular activities during an academic year, the student must for the immediately preceding year have a passing grade in at least five subjects with a composite grade average of 70 or higher in the five courses.

Of the courses used to determine eligibility, students must have credits for at least four core curriculum courses (English, Science, Social Studies and Math). A student may be exempt from the core curriculum requirements if the student is otherwise on track with the Shelby County Board of Education graduation requirements in the core curriculum courses.

The use of up to two Carnegie unit credits and the accompanying cumulative grades obtained during summer school may be used in computing the credits needed for eligibility.

At the end of each grading period, the head coach and/or sponsor of each extracurricular activity shall check the current grades of all students participating in their extracurricular activity. If a student fails to maintain a passing grade in all of his/her courses during the preceding grading period, the student will be placed on probation from extracurricular activities.

When a student is placed on probation from extracurricular activities, the head coach and/or sponsor of the extracurricular activity will notify the principal. The principal or his designee will then meet with the student (and the student's parent/guardian if deemed necessary) to implement a required academic remediation program to address the academic performance of the student.

When a student is on probation from extracurricular activities, the principal may also mandate modifications in the student's participation in extracurricular activities if the principal feels that the modifications is necessary to insure the student's ability to increase his/her academic performance during the probation period.

If, at the end of an subsequent grading period, the student makes another failing grade in the same subject, the student must show evidence of satisfactory participation in the remediation program in order to maintain participation in all extracurricular activities. A student who fails to show evidence of satisfactory participation in the mandated remediation program will automatically be suspended from all extracurricular activities.

Grades

Grading for the Thompson High School Band varies depending on the number of performances that fall within a particular grading period and the nature and character of outside rehearsals and performances.

While a point system will be used, required performances will count a minimum of 40% of a student's nine weeks grade regardless of the points accumulated.

Ideally, each individual would be evaluated on his/her individual progress throughout the entire year and will be when feasible. Realistically, students are graded on attendance at rehearsals and performances and on whether or not required materials have been passed-off.

Tutoring Program

The Tutoring Program has been established to take advantage of the academic opportunities within the band program for those students who wish to do so. Every year several of the Honor Graduates, Valedictorians and Salutatorians are selected from the Thompson High School Music Programs. The Tutoring Program is designed to help pair these academic achievers with those in need of help. Students may make a request for assistance from the director who will in turn pair that student with an academic tutor. Tutoring sessions are to take place outside of class and/or rehearsal time. However if the student feels it is merited then rehearsal and/or class time will be given for tutoring.

If we believe that we become better by surrounding ourselves with successful people and recognize that environment plays an important role in our success, then parents and students should strive to stay in musical organizations because of their grades and not quit those programs because of the time spent in preparatiосn for these organizations.

The director will monitor all students' grades and may place students in the tutoring program before requested to do so by either the student or the parent.

Membership

Marching Band

Membership in the Thompson High School "Marching Southern Sounds" is required of all students in Thompson High School Band program. This includes all members of the Symphonic Band, Wind Ensemble and Southern Knights Jazz Band (some exceptions for the jazz band may apply for instrumentation needs pertaining to the rhythm section). The band program is very much a team and/or group activity where the participation of a single individual does in fact directly affect all other members of the band. Therefore all members must assume their responsibility to the organization and fully participate in as many activities as may be required of them. A student may be excused from participation in the marching band if they are involved in another school related activity that directly conflicts with rehearsals and/or performances on a regular basis. The following are activities that are currently recognized; football, cheerleading and girls volleyball.

Students who participate in the marching program for two years will receive credit for the PE requirement. Participation in marching band must be continuous.

Students who miss a rehearsal must have either a school excuse or a doctor's excuse.

Any student with unexcused absences to rehearsal may be subject to the following disciplinary actions:

- 1. Suspension from performances
- 2. Dismissal from band

Dismissal from band will require a schedule change and the student will not participate in any facet of the band program.

Marching Band

Honor Bands

Students will have the opportunity to submit applications to many of the various honor bands sponsored by state universities. Selection into these groups is solely the right and responsibility of the host university and should in no way reflect upon the recommendations or quality of the students within the Thompson High School band Program.

Because of the vast number of honor students throughout the school year. Each student and parent will be responsible for making their own travel and lodging arrangements.

Students who are selected for an honor band are expected to fulfill that commitment. Failure to do so may limit the students' ability to apply for other similar activities.

Students will receive an itinerary before each game, the itinerary will detail times and expectations for all students. It will be the students' responsibility to adhere to and follow those time and guidelines set forth.

Band is a group activity and rehearsals are vitally important to the growth and quality of our organization. All students depend on one another to be there to do their part for the enhancement of all members through a quality performance. All students are expected to attend all rehearsal and performance understanding that at times it means putting the needs of the group ahead of personal concerns. A student should not have joined band for their own convenience.

Concerts

All concerts are the culmination of the skill, knowledge and talents developed in and out of school. Concerts are extensions of the school day and therefore are co-curricular in nature. All concerts are required by all members of the band.

Individual performance will count at least 40% of a student's nine weeks grade for the grading period in which the performance falls.

District Competition Festival

The purpose of the District Competition Festival is to evaluate and qualify bands for the State Competition Festival. Solo & Ensemble Festival

The purpose of this festival is to encourage band students to perform solos and ensembles in a Festival in order to broaden their musical education. Students will perform an approved piece of music for a judge who will then assign a rating of I, II, III or IV.

Chair Placement

Chair placement within a given section is vital to those students who wish to advance and who desire the opportunity to do so. Advancement may be obtained through two methods: Chair Auditions and Challenges.

Chair Auditions (Individual Evaluations)

Chair auditions will be held twice per school year. The first audition will be held in November following the Fall Concert and the second may be in March in conjunction with

All County Try-outs or another locally held audition. Chair auditions are required, and failure to audition will result in a substantial decrease in the individual's nine weeks grade.

Students will be ranked according to the score received in the audition. Those students who refuse to audition will be seated alphabetically after the last person with an audition score. Students who transfer in will be evaluated by the director and seated accordingly. Fall chair placement will take effect immediately upon conclusion of the audition and before Christmas Concert preparation. The second chair placement will take effect immediately after State Contest and/or after any other regional contest the band may be participating in but before Spring concert preparation.

Chaperones are to ride on the busses with the students and to help out as needed with transporting equipment, etc. Chaperones are there to help the students and the organization to run smoothly by helping in whatever areas may need attention. A chaperone's first priority is always the welfare and the safety of our students. Second priority is the logical needs of the organization.

Uniforms

Ownership

Uniforms are owned and maintained by Thompson High School Band. Maintenance includes all cleaning and repairs within normal usage by members of the Thompson High School Band. A uniform rental and cleaning fee is included in the cost of yearly fees.

Auxiliary members who are instrumentalists in either Wind Ensemble and/or Symphonic Band will pay ½ the uniform rental and cleaning fees annually and is included in the annual fees for band membership. Students who transfer in will pay rental and cleaning fees on a prorated basis depending on the time of year they transfer in and the number of performance remaining for the school year.

Thompson High School does not own the auxiliary uniforms. Those uniforms are owned and maintained by the individual auxiliary member.

Displaying

The uniforms worn by the members of the Thompson High School Band are an outward and visible sign of the pride and dedication of our organization. It is a visible symbol of that which we stand for and the standard of excellence that we are trying to achieve and maintain. The public recognizes and judges us by how we look as a group. When in uniform we as individuals are acknowledging that we are a part of an organization and will conform to the needs and wished to the betterment of that organization. As such the uniform shall always be worn in a manner consistent with these beliefs and high ideals.

1. Students will pick-up and return uniforms before and after every performance from their assigned uniform storage place (box or closet). Students must properly return the uniform to the proper storage place (i.e. hanging properly on hanger and in the correct order).
2. Students will wear only approved clothes under the band uniform (i.e. shorts and t-shirts provided by the band). Students will arrive at all performance sites wearing these clothes in order to change into the uniforms.
3. Students will not eat, drink or chew gum in uniform unless directed to by the band director.
4. Students will refrain from public displays of affection while in uniform.
5. Students will remain in full uniform as directed by the band director. Costs are to remain buttoned and collars fastened unless told otherwise by the director.
6. Students may not ever display the uniform in a haphazard casual or unsightly manner.

Repair / Replacement

Uniforms are routinely repaired and replaced by the Band Boosters. However, in the event that repairs are required and parts need to be replaced due to negligence on the part of the student, that student may be charged for the repairs and / or replacement parts.

Drum Major Uniforms

Drum Major uniforms are also owned and maintained by the Band Boosters. Student will pay the same fees as stated above.

If the student wants an additional cleaning on their uniform they will be allowed to do so, at their own expense. However, this is in addition to the cleaning fee and not in place of our substitution of that fee.

Students who cannot wear the uniform with pride and dignity upholding the high ideals and beliefs of our organization will be denied the privilege of wearing the uniform.

Band Boosters

The Thompson High School Band Boosters are the support organization for the Thompson High School Band Program. They contribute support personnel, chaperones, concession stand workers and hundreds of other duties all vital to the success of the Thompson High School Band. Participation of ALL parents is vital to the success and well being of the Thompson High School band. Simply paying fees and dues that are required and providing the student are not enough to make the program successful. Most children are more successful in any endeavor when the parents get involved with their lives.
